James⁴ WALKER (John³ John² John¹) 1769 Thornton 1836 Seaton Ross

Elizabeth³ COLBERT (Thomas² John¹) 1775 East Cottingwith 1825 Seaton Ross

James (the elder) WALKER probably was the baby baptized 14 June 1769 in Thornton by Pocklington also recorded as Thornton on Spalding Moor. His father's name was given as John but no mother's name was listed. (I found a John & Mary but lost it before it occurred to me it could be right and I never found it again. Was this Mary Wright?) There was a James Walker and Hannah Hopkinson married in Aughton in 1767 that I like very much but I can't find children for them.

Different transcripts of the same record saying the same thing. I was hoping for a mother's name. The only occupation I've found is "laborer" so they must not have owned land. Maybe that's why John and George immigrated to America. What was the economic situation in Yorkshire in 1820?

1766 William son of John Walker of Thornton was baptized September 1st
 1769 James Son of John Walker of Thornton was baptized June 14th

James had a brother, William, baptized 1766 and a sister, Ann, baptized 1761.

James and Elizabeth Colbert married 25 Nov 1794 Sutton upon Derwent, Yorkshire, England. She would have been 19, he 25. The spelling of her name makes this a question since there was an Elizabeth Calvert born 1772 who I've been unable to trace for certain and Elizabeth has always been Colbert until now. James living in Wilberfoss is a possibility. All of these towns are really close together. The River Derwent was the highway of the day. The Walkers lived in locations along the river; not necessarily moving but because the location was recorded as "near" somewhere else. The same "somewhere else" wasn't always the same place recorded by everyone.

The River Derwent was the main "highway".

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/East_Riding_of_Yorkshire

The 18th and 19th centuries saw first the expansion of canals and then the construction of rail links. The River Derwent was canalised as far upstream as Malton and was linked to Pocklington by the cutting of the Pocklington Canal. Other canals were cut to join the towns of Beverley and Driffield to the River Hull, which was also improved to aid navigation. The Market Weighton Canal connected the town directly to the Humber Estuary.^[15] An early rail link was constructed between Filey and Bridlington in 1847 and the Malton to Driffield railway was the first to cross the Wolds in 1853.^[16] These routes primarily served the agricultural community in helping to get their products to the expanding industrial markets in the West Riding of Yorkshire and to the port of Hull for export. The rail links served also to transport holidaymakers to the expanding coastal resorts of Bridlington, Hornsea and Withernsea. The canals and canalisation of some of the rivers helped to aid drainage in such of the low-lying ill-drained areas that then still existed. The landscape in the East Riding had changed little since the enclosure of the open fields in the 18th and 19th centuries, except for the removal of some hedgerows to allow for the use of large agricultural machinery in the 20th century.^[17]

Elizabeth COLBERT was baptized 11 July 1775 East Cottingwith, and died 1825 in Seaton Ross, East Riding, Yorkshire, England,

Perhaps it's just the way spellings get corrupted over time but Colbert and Calvert seem to be used interchangeably later on. Or it's even likely that the Calverts are completely different people. There was an Elizabeth Calvert b. 1772 who is not the same person as our Elizabeth Colbert.

I think this is James and Elizabeth's marriage in Sutton upon Derwent. There are so many little towns so close together it's difficult to know where events actually happened and if it's a logical assumption.

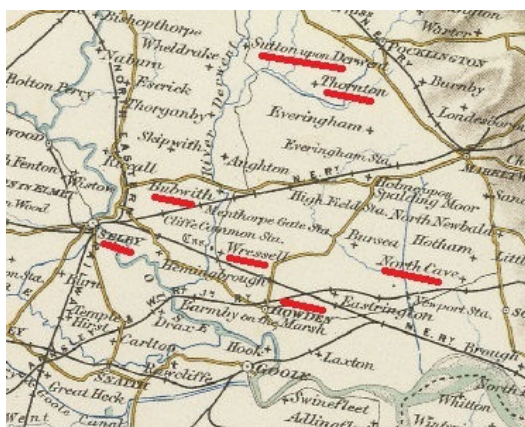

James Walker of the Parish of Wilberfoss and Elizabeth Colbert of this Parish were married by banns Nov 25th

The parish is bounded for about a mile on the west by the navigable river Derwent, and is intersected by the road between Selby and Market-Weighton; A Topographical Dictionary of England, by Samuel Lewis, 7th edition, published in 1848. 24 years after we were there

Banns of Marriage between James Walker of the Parish of Wetherby & Elizabeth Calvert of this Parish were published Oct. 26. Nov. 2. and 9. 1794 by me James Willis No. 86 the said James Walker of the Parish of Wetherby Wetherby and the said Elizabeth Calvert of this Parish Spindler were Married in this Church by Banns this twenty fifth Day of November in the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and ninety four by me James Willis Curate This Marriage was solemnized between Us James Walker and Elizabeth Calvert In the Presence of Richard Smalwood Joseph Blanshard

There is also an Elizabeth Calvert b. 1772 but I think this is our Elizabeth Colbert born 1775 spelled creatively. She would have been about 19. It took a lot of thought to be pretty sure I had the right Elizabeth. One record I found spelled Colbert three different ways on the same page.

And here is Elizabeth Calver. Should it be Colbert? I know that our Elizabeth is the daughter of Barbara³ Holmes (John² William¹) and Thomas² Colbert. I know that William Harper Jr is her half brother. I know that Elizabeth married James Walker.

Baptismal records were the only birth records kept because the church was the highest authority. In 1836 the General Register Office was founded and by 1837 it was implemented. Their first child, John, was baptized 4 Oct 1795 in Selby near Aughton. Mary Ann was baptized 1798 in Aughton and Anna in 1799 in East Cottingham. George was probably born about this time.

Sometime between Anna's birth about 1799 and William's birth in 1805 they moved to Seaton Ross. James was baptized 9 Dec 1811 in Seaton Ross. A daughter, Barbara, died 18 Oct 1824 at 8 years of age in Seaton Ross. There was an Ann Walker buried 11 Jan 1811 at 11 years in Seaton Ross who might have been a daughter. Keep in mind the reason the children were baptized in so many different places is because the little towns were so small and so close together that is how they were recorded. It could be them on the 1811 map.

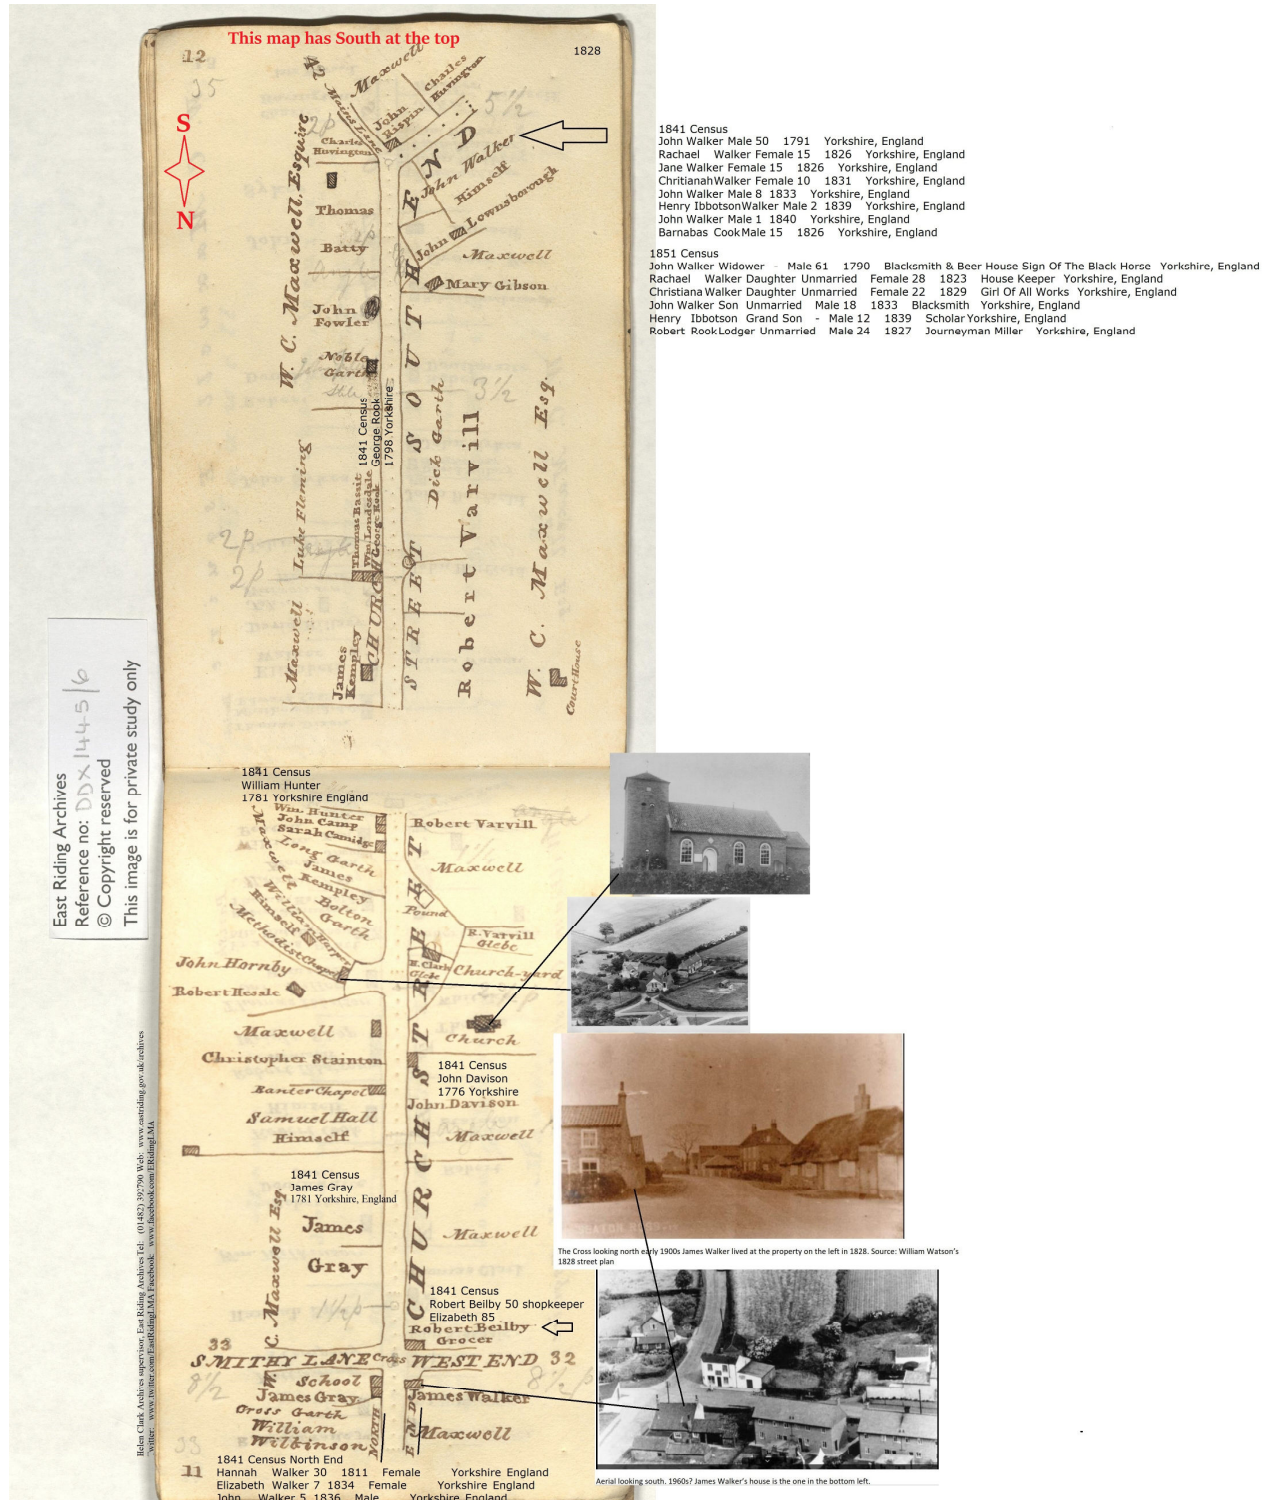

Selby Bridge and the railway swingbridge over the River Ouse, Selby, 1926

1811 map. John and James are very common Walker names. Everybody had one. Are any of these ours? Good question.

This 1828 map is upside down with south at the top. I think this is our James, across the road from Beilby's. Whitakers lived at the south end. William Harper Jr. lived across the road from St. Edmonds. All of these people are in our family. John the blacksmith and his wife, Frances live on the south end. I can't find a connection to us for John Walker & Frances Goforth m. 1787. John⁵ and Margaret would have been in America.

Children of James Walker and Elizabeth Colbert:

John WALKER 1795 –1878 born Selby near Aughton he married Margaret Richardson - they went to America abt 1823 taking son, George, with them. He died 1878 in Perry Center, NY and is buried there near their daughter Mary Walker Ball. She died 1890 in Delavan, WI and is buried there.

Mary Ann Walker 1798 –born Aughton near East Cottingwith 1883 married Charles Beilby stayed in England but their son, Charles, went to America in 1856 and married Lydia Marie Nelson b. NY. They are buried in the Hampton, Iowa cemetery.

Anna Walker 1799 – 1883 born East Cottingwith married William Myers stayed in England

George Walker Abt 1800 born East Cottingwith went to America and lived in NY. Family lore says he visited England at least once, perhaps when his father died in 1836.

William Walker 1805-1875 born Seaton Ross m. 1st Hannah Grant 2nd Mary Clark

James (the younger) Walker 1811 born Seaton Ross stayed in England m. Elizabeth Brook

Barbara Walker
1816–1824 died in Seaton Ross at 8 years

And these two unknown:

Ann Walker 1819–1830 I would expect this to be their child.

John Walker 1823–1830 Died Seaton Ross "this poor boy was killed by running against a mill sail" 7 yrs He could belong to another Walker family living in Seaton Ross

Elizabeth Walker died June 13, 1825 in Seaton Ross, East Riding Yorkshire, England. There is no record of her or James buried in St. Edmond's cemetery.

There was a James Walker and Hannah Hopkinson married in Aughton 13 Sep 1767 that I am going to keep in mind. Aughton is a reasonable location. I wasn't able to find a son, James, or any trace of them after this entry. I wonder if this James is a brother to John. John married Ann Bagley 13 Oct 1767 in Pocklington. And we all know every family had to have a James and John.

Keep in mind how close together all these towns are, some only a mile apart.

The population of Aughton was 217 in the book A Topographical Dictionary of England, by Samuel Lewis, 7th edition, published in 1848. How much different would it have been 80 years before?

BUBWITH (All Saints), a parish, in the union of Howden, Holme-Beacon division of the wapentake of Harthill, E. riding of York; consisting of the seven townships of Brighton with Gunby, Bubwith, Foggathorpe, Gribthorpe, Harlthorpe, Spaldington, and Willitof; and containing 1370 inhabitants, of whom 524 are in the township of Bubwith, 6½ miles (N. N. W.) from Howden. The parish is bounded for about a mile on the west by the navigable river Derwent, and is intersected by the road between Selby and Market-Weighton Bubwith is on the river Derwent. Sutton upon Derwent is the marriage location I found for Elizabeth and James. It is 6 modern miles from Seaton Ross. It could be that James is a brother to John.

Elizabeth's half brother, William Harper, wrote his will in 1834 although he didn't die until 1842. He included all of Elizabeth's living children.

George (now in America) one other of the Sons of my said half sister Elizabeth Walker
James the younger one other of the Sons of the said Elizabeth Walker

William one of the Sons of my late half sister Elizabeth Walker deceased

John WALKER also now in America one other of the sons of my said half Sister [1795-1858
Who married Margaret Richardson; emigrated to America with Margaret and son George, and continues our family line.]

Mary Ann Walker 1798-1883 Mary Bielby the wife of Charles Bielby of Holme upon Spalding Moor

Anna Walker 1799- 1883 Anna Myers the wife of William Myers of the same place (the two Daughters of my said half sister Elizabeth Walker)

I bought these documents from East Riding Archives & Local Studies Manager East Riding of Yorkshire Council. William calls Elizabeth his ½ sister.

PAST TIMES

The Wesleyan Chapel Seaton Ross

On the 30th October, 1822 a bargain and sale took place for £5. 0s. 0d. between William Harper, Yeoman of Seaton Ross and a group of eleven local businessmen which included 9 farmers, a surgeon and a shopkeeper. The purpose of this was to purchase a Methodist site (Wesleyan) for a new chapel to be built measuring 30 feet East to West and 22.5 feet North to South.

The site was exactly where the old Wesleyan Chapel now stands and in fact, William Watson's plan of Seaton Ross in June 1811 shows a Wesleyan Chapel situated exactly on the same site. It would seem that this was not a purpose built chapel and was probably a house used for meeting purposes until a new chapel could be built.

So began in 1822, the building of the first Wesleyan Chapel at Seaton Ross.

For many years the structure remained a place of worship until the late 19th century when the property became so decayed as to necessitate a new building on the site at an estimated cost of £350.

Preparations for the new chapel began in 1898 and formed part of The Pocklington Circuit Chapel Renovation Scheme. In the latter part of the 19th century, many old chapels in the area were repaired or rebuilt as part of the scheme and one such chapel was the Wesleyan at Seaton Ross.

The rebuilding work was completed in 1900 and on the 4th June in that year a grand opening ceremony took place. This was a very special occasion at Seaton Ross and the events of the day were reported in many local newspapers.

The Wesleyan Chapel remained a place of worship well into the 20th century before closing in the 1980's. It is now a private house.

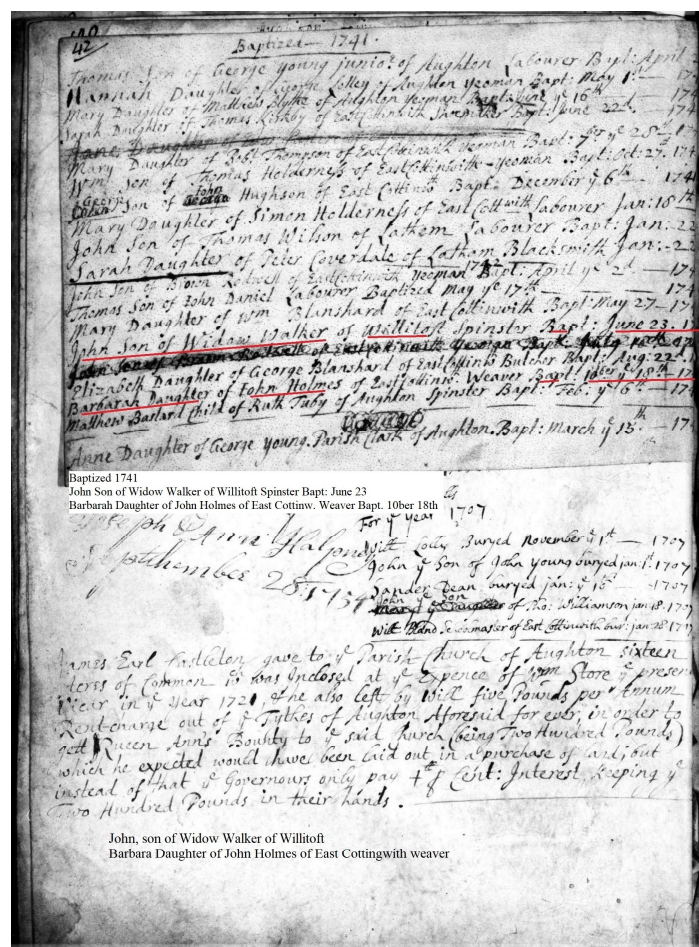

Malcolm Young

William Harper Jr. sold land to the Methodist church in 1822. You can see the location on the 1811 map

The surname Walker is an 'occupational' name that derives from the term used to describe a fuller of cloth. Before the invention of mills and machines for fulling, wool was cleaned and thickened by being soaked in water and trampled under foot, and the people who did this came to be given the name Walker, due to their occupation of 'walking' on the wool. As a consequence of this the surname is most frequent in the traditional textile heartlands of northern England, such as Yorkshire. In fact one of the earliest Walker's on record is one Robert le Walker who is mentioned in the Yorkshire Assize Rolls for the year 1260. The Walkers in this family are all laborers. No land owners. No merchants.

Notice that some of the year dates don't seem to match. I don't know if it's because the calendar changed in 1752 and they were transcribed according to the new calendar or what. If the names and locations made sense to me, that's what I used. The dates that are off a year could be either year.

John<sup>3</sup> Walker married Mary Wright by Banns January 3, 1764. Notice William Harper and Barbara Holmes (John<sup>2</sup> William<sup>1</sup>) married August 15th 1765. John<sup>3</sup> Walker and his 2nd wife, Ann's son, James<sup>4</sup>, married Barbara's daughter, Elizabeth Colbert, by her 2nd husband, Thomas Colbert.

Notice the Walkers and Harpers again. John<sup>3</sup> and Mary might have had 2 daughters, Betty b. 20 Oct. 1764 and Ann b. 26 Oct. 1766 both in Willitoft. But why would Mary name a daughter Ann? On the other hand, everyone had an Ann. Could Ann be a daughter of Ann Bagley and John Walker? Could be. John and Ann were married 12 Oct 1767. This Ann was baptized October 1766. All these documents are transcripts so mistakes can happen. Out of wedlock children showed up frequently in the Aughton Register with just a mother given. I think John did have a sister, Ann, so maybe he and Mary did name a daughter, Ann.

The William Harper baptized Feb 8, 1767 was the son of Barbara Holmes and her first husband, William Harper. After William died Barbara married Thomas Colbert. William Jr. left his estate to his half sister, Elizabeth Colbert Walker's children. He had no children from either of his marriages. Elizabeth had already died.

Mary must have died unless this is a different James Walker. And that is possible, too! If Mary died then James's mother is Ann Bagley.

The license is for the 12th and the marriage is the 13th Oct 1767. And these both agree they were married in Pocklington! That could still be up for debate if I find something else. Remember how close all these towns are.

If Ann is 25 in 1767 she was b. 1742. Did she know how old she was? Lots of people didn't. Her baptism says she was born 1737. Looking at census most people underestimated their age.

1737 August of 18th Ann Daughter of Giles Bagley and Elizabeth his Wife born of 17th

This baptism date is different from her marriage age. And notice it's Old Style calendar so March to April rather than January to December. A birth difference 1737 to 1742 is reasonable. Lots of people didn't know how old they really were.

Banns of Marriage between
John Walker and Ann Bagley
 N<sup>o</sup> 173 both of this Parish and _____ of _____ Parish _____
 Married in this Church by Licence
 this 13th Day of October in the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty seven by me Marking the Curate
 This Marriage was solemnized between Us John Walker
Ann Bagley
 In the Prefence of Wm. Thompson
Wm. Loftus

Ann Bagley married John Walker the 13th day of Oct 1767 both of this parish but it doesn't name the parish. My guess is at the Church of All Saints if it were held at Pocklington town rather than a little town "near" Pocklington.

His mother was Elizabeth. He married an Elizabeth in Bubwith parish. I hope this is right. But everyone had an Elizabeth. Why not? Everyone had a James and John. Let's make it as confusing as possible.

Loftsome and Loftsome Bridge were small hamlets in the parish of Wressle. The Derwent was once crossed by a ferry at Loftsome. A swing bridge crossing of the Derwent was built at Loftsome in 1804, operated as a toll bridge.

There has been an inn at Loftsome Bridge since at least the 1800s. By 1823 the inn was known as the Loftsome Bridge Inn.

In the 1870s Loftsome's population was 20.

The original Loftsome Bridge remained in use to the early 1930s, at which time a new bridge was built for the Hull-Selby road (part of the A63).

1712 Aug 4 baptized
 John the son of John and Elizabeth Walker

John<sup>2</sup> Walker 1712-1741 I think his mother was Elizabeth Scott.

Their son, John<sup>3</sup>, was born in June 1741.

There had to have been some strong women at that time.

Widow Walker was pregnant when John<sup>2</sup> died in 1741. He surely had an accident or illness.

Ann Bagley had a 3 year old and probably the daughters aged 6 & 8 from her husband's first marriage when John<sup>3</sup> died in 1772.

I was surprised at the age of the women at first marriage. Often they were over 25 years. Maybe a good thing since most had a baby nearly every 2 years until they were at least 40.

From William Harper Walker and George Walker to John Walker c 1670

The handwriting here looks like Calvert but there is no doubt he is married to Barbara Harper.

I questioned the 8 year age gap between Barbara and Thomas especially with Barbara being the oldest. It's likely neither of them knew exactly how old they were but being from the same place would have a rough idea. I wonder if Barbara had inherited property from William Harper. That would certainly make her more attractive to a future husband. Would she have brought William's daughter by his first wife and her son with him into a new marriage? I don't know what became of Ann Harper, daughter of William and Jane Bland Harper.

Of the birth/baptisms I found during this time, they usually didn't wait more than a day or two to baptize.

Elizabeth Colbert was the half sister of William Harper 1767-1842, son of Wm. Harper Sr., poulterer (a dealer in poultry and, typically, game.), and Elizabeth's mother, Barbara Holmes. William Jr. left his estate to Elizabeth's children. William Jr. had no children from either of his marriages; 1st to Ann Holmes, niece of Barbara Holmes, and 2nd to Margaret Clark. Margaret's story was written by the present owner of her house and can be found here <https://seatonrosswitch.com/a-curious-legacy/> or by searching for Margaret Clark the Seaton Ross witch. Margaret's epitaph: 'The faults you've seen in me, strive to avoid, Search your own hearts and you'll be well-employed'

Margaret Clark's sister, Mary Clark, married William Walker b.1805-d. 1875, who was the son of James (the elder) and Elizabeth Colbert. No doubt your eyes have glazed and your brain stopped functioning at this point. Imagine me sorting this out!

Surely there were more children than these two. Unless there were stillborns and miscarriages. I have read burial entries for still born and I haven't found any for Thomas and Barbara. It's very unusual for a woman not to have a baby every 2 years. Since Thomas was a sailor, maybe he was gone a lot. And Barbara was getting to the end of her childbearing years by 1782. She would have been 41. But it still doesn't explain two children in 8 years and 3 total in her life.

Thomas Died in March 1817 and was buried on the 7th of March.

The Domesday Book. I'm not going to get into it here. Google it. Domesday Book is a manuscript record of the "Great Survey" of much of England and parts of Wales completed in 1086 by order of King William the Conqueror. A few locations common to the Walker family are listed there.

These pages will be what I've found but not been able to pin down. I will work on this generation. I don't know if I will ever figure it out. DNA matches to "cousins" living in England are not plentiful because they don't need to do testing. They know where they came from.

John WALKER b. abt 1670 m. Elizabeth Ridsdaile

married 28 Feb 1714 Holme on Spalding Moor 9 miles from Wressle The location is OK but doesn't seem likely unless Elizabeth is a 2nd marriage.

Married John Walker & Elizabeth Ridsdale 28 Feb 1714 Holm on Spalding Moor

But John was b. 1712, 2 years before this marriage. If he would have been illegitimate his baptism would not have named a father but instead a mother. The only thing I can think of is that this is the right father but a 2nd marriage. OR this is not the right couple. I know I will find the answer as soon as I publish this family history.

A fly in the ointment. Who is William? A brother of John? What is William's wife's name? Is John Sr.'s wife Elizabeth Ridsdale?

This William would have been 23 in 1687. Marriage place of North Cave/Seaton Ross works. Was she Mary Walker or Mary different surname? So often the wife is given the married name in the record. Infuriating!

John baptized 1712. He would have been 27 years old. BUT a father 2 years before he was married? Only if the 1714 marriage was a second marriage. If I could find a marriage prior to 1714 I'd be a happy camper. Someday. Maybe.

The research continues.

I can't find enough information about day to day life in 1700. This is from Wikipedia.

Women's historians have debated the impact of the Industrial Revolution and capitalism generally on the status of women.<sup>[35][36][37]</sup> Taking a pessimistic view, Alice Clark argued that when capitalism arrived in 17th century England, it made a negative impact on the status of women as they lost much of their economic importance. Clark argues that in 16th century England, women were engaged in many aspects of industry and agriculture. The home was a central unit of production and women played a vital role in running farms, and in operating some trades and landed estates. For example, they brewed beer, handled the milk and butter, raised chickens and pigs, grew vegetables and fruit, spun flax and wool into thread, sewed and patched clothing, and nursed the sick. Their useful economic roles gave them a sort of equality with their husbands. However, Clark argues, as capitalism expanded in the 17th century, there was more and more division of labor with the husband taking paid labor jobs outside the home, and the wife reduced to unpaid household work. Middle-class women were confined to an idle domestic existence, supervising servants; lower-class women were forced to take poorly paid jobs. Capitalism, therefore, had a negative effect on more powerful women.<sup>[38]</sup> In a more positive interpretation, Ivy Pinchbeck argues that capitalism created the conditions for women's emancipation.<sup>[39]</sup> Louise Tilly and Joan Wallach Scott have emphasized the continuity and the status of women, finding three stages in European history. In the preindustrial era, production was mostly for home use and women produce much of the needs of the households. The second stage was the "family wage economy" of early industrialization, the entire family depended on the collective wages of its members, including husband, wife and older children. The third or modern stage is the "family consumer economy," in which the family is the site of consumption, and women are employed in large numbers in retail and clerical jobs to support rising standards of consumption.<sup>[40]</sup>

Women made clothes for their whole family. Usually shoes and gloves were purchased.

Hand sew all this fabric. Wear it all on a summer day. Do your house work and burp the baby wearing it? No thank you!

People were more progressive in the 1700's than I had thought. I didn't know married women worked for money to help support their family. Other than water travel, I don't know how they got around. I don't know if every family had a horse and cart.

Considering the mayhem masks are creating in the 2020 Covid 19 pandemic, it's too bad this wasn't considered a fashion accessory.

But by the mid-18thc., flat oval masks were being worn by women not only to protect their identities and their modesty, but also their complexions while riding or walking outdoors. The detail, left, from the 1751 Italian painting The Rhinoceros shows one of these masks worn by the woman at the top, contrasting with a masquerade-style half-mask worn by the gentleman in the lower right.

These oval masks were not considered objects of vanity, but as practical accessories. They preserved the face from sunburn, and were also useful in avoiding male scrutiny and judgement. Made of velvet mounted on pasteboard and lined with vellum, the masks were flat and plain, with openings for the eyes and nose. Some had colored glass in the eye-openings, a kind of primitive sun-visor. The masks did not tie around the head or over the ears like modern masks. Instead they were held in place by a bead on a loop, mounted near the mouth opening, and clasped between the wearer's teeth. This awkward arrangement must have helped discourage unwanted conversation with strangers, since the clenched teeth necessary to wear the mask made speaking difficult. - Susan Holloway Scott
